

- Every participant in GDI-Flanders has access to the data source that has been added to the GDI, and may use it for its tasks in the public interest. On this access and this use the conditions apply as determined in the Decree of the Flemish Government of 10 September 2010, determining the detailed rules for access to and use by the participants in GDI Flanders of the geographic data sources and geographic services added to the GDI.
- This access and use are free of charge and for an indefinite period.
- The data is protected by copyright.
- By accessing or using the data source, the participant commits to it conditions.
- The participant is obliged to avoid any unlawful and adequate use of the data source and to take adequate technological and organizational measures to prevent unauthorized access to or unlawful use of the data source, to the extent that such access or this use is under the control of the participant. The participant is obliged the AGIV, and if appropriate to indemnify the owner and / or administrator of the data source against claims from others, arising from or related to the unlawful or otherwise unlawful manner in which he uses the data source used. The participant must refrain from making unlawful claims acts that hinder the availability of the data source, and refrain from any use of the data source in a way that has the purpose or effect of causing harm to the AGIV and, if applicable, its owner and / or manager.
- The participant must immediately report any errors found in the data source to the owner, the administrator or, if applicable, the AGIV.
- The participant must include the source reference "GDI Flanders" for each use where the information from the dataset is visualized.
- Unless otherwise legal or contractual provisions, the participant uses the data source at your own risk and without any warranty as to factual correctness, completeness or effectiveness. Unless otherwise stipulated, the AGIV, and if applicable the owner and / or the manager, are not held liable for either damage resulting from or as a result of access or use of the data source.
- If the participant performs his task of general interest in whole or in part to a third party, this contractor will have access to the data source and can use it for the performance of the task of general interest entrusted to him, provided he complies with the terms of this license. In that case, the participant takes all adequate and adequate measures to avoid falling outside the bounds of the public interest task entrusted to him the contractor has or can access the data source use. At the start of the assignment, the participant will inform the Contractor of this the terms of this license.
- If the data source contains personal data as defined by the Law of 8 December 1992 to protect privacy in relation to the processing of data sources and geographic services, added to the GDI, and the compensation scheme for public access.

- By submitting the application, the authority commits itself to these access and access rights conditions of use. If the authority does not comply with the provisions, AGIV can exercise the right on access and use.
- The right of access and use and the associated rights for the Authority are not transferable.
- The data in the data source is copyrighted.
- Access to and use of the data source by the agency is free of charge and from indefinitely.
- The authority is obliged to avoid any unlawful use of the data source and to provide adequate and take adequate technological and organizational measures to prevent unauthorized access to or prevent unlawful use of the Data Source, to the extent that such access or use is under her control. The authority is obliged to the AGIV, and if applicable the owner and / or to indemnify the controller of the data source against claims from others, arising from or related to the unlawful or unlawful way in which he uses the data source. The authority must refrain from committing unlawful acts that affect the hinder availability of the data source, and refrain from any use of the data source in a way that has the purpose or effect of causing damage to the AGIV and if applicable, its owner and / or manager.
- The authority must include the source reference "GDI-Vlaanderen" for each use where the information from the dataset is visualized.
- Unless legal or contractual provisions to the contrary, the authority uses the data source at your own risk and without any warranty as to factual correctness, completeness or effectiveness. Unless otherwise stipulated, the AGIV, and if applicable the owner and / or the manager, are not held liable for either damage resulting from or as a result of access or use of the data source.
- If the body entrusts the performance of its general interest task in whole or in part to a third party, this contractor will have access to and can access the data source use it for the performance of the task of general interest entrusted to him, provided he has the terms of this license. In that case, the Authority will take all appropriate and sufficient measures to prevent them from falling outside the bounds of the task of public interest entrusted that the contractor has access to or can use the data source. At the commencement of the assignment, the Authority will inform the contractor of the provisions of this license.

Page 3

- If the data source contains personal data as defined by the Law of 8 December 1992 to protect privacy in relation to the processing of personal data, the body, and if applicable the contractor, will provide the data in Article 2 of the Decree of 27 April 2007 on the reuse of government information, which holds the intellectual property rights to the product and has the authority to use the make data available under this license; Provider: the natural person, legal entity or group thereof that has been granted by the licensor the right to use the Distribute the product and make it available for reuse; Licensee: Any Natural person, legal entity or group thereof that is granted use rights to the product.

- Article 3. Object of the license: The licensee obtains the non-exclusive, worldwide right to reuse the product for any lawful purpose, including reproduction, passing on, publishing, adapting and commercially exploiting the product.
- Article 4. Obligations of the licensee: The licensee undertakes the provisions of this license. The licensee undertakes to reuse the product every time Include a citation as specified by the licensor. In case of a shortage such specification, the licensee must state the name of the licensor and, if possible, the date or year of the product. When combining works of different sources or licensors it is not reasonably practical to include all citations, the following statement may be included: "Contains governmental information obtained under the Free Open Data License Flanders v. 1.2 ". The licensee undertakes any unlawful avoid reuse of the product. He undertakes in no way to impress provoke that he is acting on behalf of the licensor or that his reuse has any official status or approval has been granted by the licensor. The licensee undertakes in the re-use of the work does not infringe applicable protection legislation of personal data, or any other legal provision.

3/4

AGIV

Page 4

- Article 5. Intellectual property rights: The licensor retains all intellectual property ownership rights in the product, subject to the rights expressly set forth in this license granted to the licensee. The licensee retains all intellectual property rights the works he creates based on the product, without however detracting from the obligations regarding the reuse of the product in these works, as described in these license.
- Article 6. Price: Access to, provision and reuse of the product are free.
- Article 7. End of the license: The license is valid for an indefinite period. She becomes automatic terminated if the licensee does not comply with its terms.
- Article 8. Liability: The product was originally created for specific purposes within the public task of the licensor and the licensor makes no guarantee that the product is suitable for other purposes. The licensor or issuer returns the product the state as it is located and is not responsible for the damage incurred by the licensee and / or by third parties as a result of the reuse of the product under the terms

